A manifesto from Don Carlos, promising to confirm all the civil and religious liberty Spaniards now enjoy is expected, as a direct step towards the throne and a feeler for a marriage between Don Carlos's son Jaime and the Princess of the Asturias, in case another heir to the throne be not born.

Carlists and monarchists alike would hail such an arrangement, as it would put an end to a struggle that has lasted 50 years, and enable Spain to occupy her proper place amongst the Powers of Europe.

"HISTORY OF PRICES SINCE 1850."

(By Michael G. Mulhall, F.S.S.)

CAUSES THAT AFFECT PRICES.

The wars of Buonaparte drove up prices of agricultural products 72 per cent., and those of manufactured goods 38 per cent. Again, there was a rise consequent on the wars of 1851-60 (namely, the Crimean and Solferino campaigns and the Indian Mutiny), when agricultural prices rose 16 per cent., and the general price-level of the world showed an advance of 5 per cent. In the third place, the American War of 1861-64 had such effect that prices rose 78 per cent in the U. States and 52 per cent in Great Britain over the level of 1841-50; and taking the whole decade of 1861-70, we find that its level was for the whole world 21 per cent higher in agricultural products, and 11 p. cent higher for the general level of all merchandise, than the decade ending 1850. It is impossible, therefore, to doubt Tooke's theory that "war has a tendency to raise prices, by obstructing or diminishing the supply of commodities."

The peace that succeeded Waterloo saw prices fall nearly 50 per cent., the world's level for the decade ending 1830 being 33 p. cent less than the average of 1811-20. In like manner there was a steady decline after the war in the United States, the decade of 1871-80 for the world being 5 per cent under the preceding, and we have had a continuous fall of prices since the Franco-German war. In a word, peace restores the level or the natural tendency of prices that was disturbed by war. But it does something more, by furthering arts and sciences, which tend to a lower level, for, as Newmarch says:—"the tendency of all scientific discoveries and improvements is to cheapness."

Commerce directly leads to a lower level, although it gives enhanced value in particular countries which formerly had no market; thus, for example, fruit in Italy is worth four times what it was in the decade ending 1860, but the price of oranges in Europe has fallen from 11 to 7 shillings per bushel—a decline of 36 per cent—and the customs-value of all imported fruit in Great Britain from 20£ to 14£ per ton in the same interval—a depression of 30 per cent. The trade currents, which level barriers between nations, have precisely the opposite effect of war, and promote a lower level, to the general advantage of both producers and consumers.

Steam-power, as we have seen, exercises a prodigious influence in the same direction; for, as five men now perform as much work as eight could do in 1850, there is a saving of 40 per cent of labour, and as labour constitutes one-third of the value of an article, we have herein a saving of 13 p. cent in the market price.

Improved facilities for transport also effect a great saving. In 1850 the land-carriage of merchandise in Europe was six times what it is at present; in fact the carriage of goods for 100 miles added 21 per cent to their value, whereas transport by railway now adds only 5 per cent for the same distance. At the same time freights by sea have fallen one-half, so that we have a saving of 5 to 10 per cent in the value of merchandise before it reaches the consumer.

Another remarkable saving is in the cost of production of raw material, for we find that since 1870 wool has fallen 20, raw cotton 42 per cent; and if we consider raw material as one-third of the value of any commodity, we have here sufficient reason for a decline of 7 per cent in the price of woollens and 14 per cent in cotton goods.

Scientific inventions, immediately bearing on particular branches of industry, have no less striking influence. We can now produce 3 tons of pigiron at the same expenditure of coal that 2 tons took thirty years ago, and we can sell 3 tons of steel for less than 1 would have cost at that time. An economy of 33 per cent in the whole range of hardware merchandise has powerfully contributed to the present low price-level among nations, which is erroneously called trade depression.

Emigration has helped still further to cheapen the products of human industry by turning to immense advantage in newer parts of the world those energies and powers that could not find adequate field for exertion in Europe. If so monstrous a thing could be supposed as that the 15,000,000 emigrants (1851-84) were now soldiers in European armies, instead of thriving settlers in America and Australia, the prices of wool and wheat would be 10 or 20 per cent higher than they are.

There are numerous minor causes such as electric telegraphs, reduced rates of discount, increasing competition among nations, improved methods of banking, more general use of cheques, and, in one word, a saving of time and expense between the producer and consumer of any commodity, all which point in the same direction.

The wonder is, not that the world's price-level for 1881-84 is 15 per cent lower than that of 1861-70, but that it has not declined much more. We have, however, good reason to expect a slow, steady, and continuous fall of prices during the remainder of the 19th century, if the peace of Europe be not seriously disturbed.

Popular delusions regarding prices are deep-rooted in the bulk of mankind, and we cannot be surprised that they prevail in England to such a degree that nine Englishmen of every ten regard low prices as a calamity, and would apparently welcome a rise in the markets, proceeding no matter from what circumstances. They do not see that high prices are a fool's paradise, where everybody seems to earn more, but is really no better off. Could we go back to the times when calico was worth 26 pence a yard, steel pens a shilling a piece, and wool four shillings per pound, when the quartern loaf cost ten pence, should we find ourselves better or worse off? The farmer has no right to expect 100 shillings per quarter for wheat unless he be prepared to pay double his actual rent for the land and forego every advantage that the general fall of prices has conferred on society. No more penny newspapers, no more sixpenny telegrams, no more cheap hardware, implements or machinery; everybody would require more income to keep pace with the rise of prices, and nobody would be any richer.

In the United States there is a much higher price-level than in Great Britain; a cab-driver charges 8 shillings for the shortest distance in New York City, or eight times the European average. Yet the result is the same in the end, and the cost of living is so high that even the street scavenger who earns a dollar a day, is no better off than if his wages were two shillings under a European price-level. A Boston merchant recently stated to a group of passengers on a Cunard steamer that it paid him to come over to London to buy his clothes in England. An official at Washington has declared that he would rather have a salary of $2000 a year in England than $4000 in the United States. Perhaps there can be no more evident example of the ineffectual nature of high price-levels than the island of Santo Domingo; the ordinary charges are in dollars, but happily of so depreciated a currency that it takes 600 of them to make four shillings; and although you pay a boatman or street-porter 50 dollars for any trifling service, he is no richer than if his pay were sixpence. The case would be no different if everybody were paid in gold, with an artificial price-level, as when gold-diggers in California were paid £1 of English money daily, and eggs were worth 6 shillings a dozen.

Another delusion, which has supporters among the most distinguished men in Great Britain, is that prices depend more or less on the stock of gold in the world, or on the question of bimetallism. Two arguments ought to suffice to show the absurdity of such a theory. In the first place, only 48 per cent of the actual stock of gold is used for money, the uncoined reserve being 768 millions sterling, against 425 millions in 1850, and hence the fall in prices cannot arise from any scarcity of that metal. In the second place, while the productive power and volume of the world's products have risen 104 per cent since 1850, the stock of gold has increased 140 per cent; apart from the consideration that the use of cheques and bills of exchange has in a manner doubled the stock of gold, for we have already seen that international commerce makes 5£ go as far now as £12 of the precious metals in 1861-65. If the superabundant increase of both gold and silver found us at present with a higher level of prices than in 1850, there might be some excuse for the delusion, but the reverse is the case.

I wonder why Mrs. Blank always wears her dresses cut so low in the neck?" inquired an unsophisticated young gentleman of a cynical acquaintance. "Humph! That's easy. She wears her dress that way so that she can give her husband plenty of cold shoulder."

THE HYPATIA CASE.

On the 19th June 1885, James T. Buston, Captain of the British barque Hypatia presented himself at the "Juzgado Federal" stating: that he had engaged a sailor in Brunswick, U. S., named Henry Vinet, a N. American by birth; that being in Argentine waters and having had some altercations with the individual in question, respecting his wages and conduct, he had decided to lodge a complaint at the Federal Court. However before he had had time to take this step, he was summoned by the British Consul to appear at a British Naval court, under the Presidency of the British Consul, assisted by Captain Gordon and Mr. C. H. Krabbe, to answer the demands made by Vinet respecting the payment of his wages. James Buston, who is not of British nationality, refused to recognise the authority of the Consul to interfere in a question foreign to his capacity as Consul. Nevertheless, the British Naval Court condemned and fined him $362 gold for wages and maintenance of Vinet; at the same time he was compelled to pay a fee of £6.45 or $32.25. Captain Buston appealed to the Federal Courts, on the plea that the British Consul had no right to decide in a question between the captain of a vessel and one of his sailors, and that Mr. Bridgett had taken upon himself the responsibility and authority of a Court. Such an usurpation is punishable by the 38th Art of the Penal Code.

The following is the opinion of the Attorney-General—

Supreme Court,—The conduct the British Consul is not, in my opinion, in any way connected with the private affairs of Mr R Bridgett. The Consul considered that he was invested with the authority necessary to exercise jurisdiction over British vessels anchored in Argentine waters. This privilege is granted by some nations; it is an exception and can be only be availed of in virtue of special international stipulation. Whether or not, the Consuls amongst us are entitled to use this privilege, is not a question to decide at the present moment. It appears to me unquestionable that the fact of M Bridgett availing himself of the privilege in the present case does not imply a "private transaction", but the understanding and application, good or bad, of a right accorded by international treaties, or by laws.

I, therefore, solicit the confirmation of the sentence pronounced by the British Naval Court.

The Supreme Court then passed judgment as follows: Whereas the action brought against the British Consul by Capt. Byston is not in any way connected with private affairs, but with official acts of the Consul, the sentence of the British Naval Court is hereby confirmed, etc.

LATEST FROM ENGLAND

London, Saturday Nov. 7th.

The report that the Russian Government is opposed to the union of the two Bulgarias has produced an unfavourable impression at Philippopolis, and given rise to fresh manifestations of loyalty to Prince Alexander. Deputations have arrived from all parts of the country with addresses expressing the firm determination of the inhabitants to make any sacrifice rather than find themselves again under a governor-general.

The Turkish War Office has issued orders for the mobilisation of the Reserves, and more men have already come in than are at present required. The military preparations being complete, greater attention is directed to the navy. The Armstrong guns on the upper decks of the ironclads have been changed for breech-loading Krupps much heavier in calibre and of greater range, while torpedo nets for all the seagoing ships are ready for issue.

The Press Association has the highest authority for stating that Servian troops will not advance across the frontier into Bulgarian territory pending the result of the deliberations of the conference of the Powers. Up to the present, the representative of Servia in this country has received no information confirmatory of the statement telegraphed yesterday morning from Nisch that the Servian troops had orders to advance into Bulgaria.

The Conference on the Eastern Roumelian question assembled on Thursday. The proceedings were, however, only formal. The Conference adjourned till to-day (Saturday).

Mr. John Bright began his canvass for the Central Division of Birmingham by addressing a crowded meeting on Thursday night in the Town Hall. He reviewed the history of the past 50 years to show that the Tury party had opposed successive measures of useful reform, and had in each case to surrender to the popular will. Their blind and obstinate resistance had been followed by humiliating capitulation. He hoped Birmingham would again elect him to speak for peace, freedom, and justice.

The Archbishops of Canterbury and York have issued a joint address to the electors of the United Kingdom, pointing out the importance of the responsibilty conferred by the franchise, and counselling them to use circumspection in the bestowal of their votes. The question of disestablishment, though referred to is not dwelt upon by their graces.

The annual Liverpool Diocesan Conference was opened on Thursday in St. George's Hall, the Bishop of Liverpool presiding. In his address, the chairman dealt with the subject of disestablishment, and pointed out several of the weak points in the Church's position. Free education formed the subject of the afternoon discussion.

It is semi-officially stated that the British and Indian authorities have taken every precaution to ensure that the Europeans in Mandalay may have time to leave the place before the presentation of the ultimatum to the King.

According to a telegram received in Paris from St. Thomas, the representatives of France and England in Hayti have applied to their Governments for the despatch of war vessels to that island in consequence of the bad treatment of foreigners by the Haytian Government.

The death is announced in a Madrid telegram of Admiral Topete, who in conjunction with Marshal Prim and Marshal Serrano, led the revolution of 1868.

The Spanish Minister of the Colonies has received a telegram from the Governor of the Philippine Islands which contradicts the alarmist reports which had been circulated as to the fire in Manila. Only two houses were lost.

The Monetary Conference has come to an agreement upon all the questions before it with the exception of the clause in the draft convention relating to the eventual resumption of the free coinage of 5 franc pieces by one or more of the States included in the union. The Swiss and Italian delegates intimated that they would require to consult their respective Governments on the point.

According to information to hand from Cameroons river, West Africa, it appears that the Germans who took possession of the place over a year ago have commenced to levy duty. At present the tax is confined to exports, but even this it is said will have the effect of handicapping the Cameroons in its competition with the other oil rivers. For every ton of palm oil now exported from Carmeroons a duty of 5s. is charged, and every ton of palm kernels 2s. 6d. This is an innovation of a most unwelcome kind at the present time when the oil market here and on the continent is admitted to be in an unparalleled state of depression. The despatch which mentions the imposition of the duty states that matters in the river are quiet, and are proceeding smoothly under the new regime.

A farm labourer, named Owen M'Gill, is in custody at Birkenhead charged with the wilful murder of his wife, Mary M'Gill, aged 34 years. The prisoner was employed on a farm at Landican, Woodchureh, and it is supposed that during a quarrel between the couple on Saturday night he kicked her to death. The woman's body was found in bed dreadfully bruised. The prisoner has been committed on a charge of 'Wilful murder.'

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

GENERAL NEWS.

Nov. 3.

There is a slight fall of ¼ in Argentine Hard Dollars this evening. You read your S. A. Journal and you see the onslaught made by Mr. Francisco J. Bravo in his series of letters to the Financial News on Argentine finances. We shall see what Truth has to say to-morrow.

Some of the papers have referred to Argentine finance in their money articles, but it is evident they only know what Mr. Bravo has said. Your usually friendly contemporary, the South American Journal, you will observe, expresses the opinion that "success has made you a little arrogant, and that it is high time the plain truth should be spoken." It says, in an article on the new loan, that the price of issue stated in Buenos Ayres (77½) is a little higher than the real price. Quoting from your paper the words "financial decomposition," the S. A. Journal says—"This is surely to describe the positions of fiscal affairs in the Argentine Republic as being in a very hopeless plight indeed. Yet this is an opinion that is growing here as well as in the River Plate."

Meanwhile the Argentine stocks are not seriously affected—or, in fact, not affected at all—by these unfavorable opinions; for Uruguays, which were lifted up by the British Minister's recent report, fell to-day ¼ lower than the Argentine Hard Dollar did—that is, they fell 1.

The ways of the Stock Exchange are mysterious. Nevertheless, you must be on your guard, and remember we are very close now to each other, and London has only general information to act upon and looks to you for particulars. Every word is weighed. Loans and national debts are in all lights an evil. Even a man who borrows at 3 and makes 10 per cent. ties a millstone round his neck.

The Municipal elections in the provincial cities have gone rather in favor of the Conservatives; and indeed it is not too much to say that everything is going in favour of the Conservatives. The two Archbishops—one of whom lately favoured us with a form of prayer to ask for light—have taken upon themselves the functions of Providence, and in a Circular Letter in reference to the approaching elections they tell us "the votes now to be given will probably govern the empire for some time to come." They remind us that a vote "is a serious duty and heavy responsibility in the sight of God and man." In short, the Circular Letter, which I am inclined to think is a breach of the human law—of England, at all events—amounts to this: "Vote as you please, but do not vote for disestablishment—and, above all, for disendowment." Those priestly pedagogues, whom Mr. Gladstone perched in high places, have decidedly evinced a desire to make the church a more direct political and social engine. The final result will be fatal to them and the church. Mr. Gladstone has been drawn out and has written a letter, the upshot of which is to proclaim himself an enemy to disestablishment.

The Times of this morning openly advises Whigs to vote for Tories. In fact, Mr. Gladstone's "flabby manifesto" has endangered the success of his party, and has hastened the inevitable fusion of all parties into two clear divisions—Liberals and social Democrats. Whigism, Conservatism and Toryism are dead, or absorbed henceforth in what a few years ago were advanced Liberal tenets. The Standard tells us, the Whigs are going over fast. So much the better for the new Radicals, who will win here in the long run, as, after all, it appears they have won in France at the elections.

I am obliged to revert to the Armstrong abduction case, as yesterday and to-day's evidence was of so interesting a nature as to temporarily engross public attention. The law and lawyers are hard against Mr. Stead; firstly, because he defends his own case, and thus as an amateur, excites a vulgar professional curiosity; and, secondly, because he foolishly strives, and apparently on the advice of an old and experienced solicitor, Mr. Shaen, to override statute law by moral law. Mr. Justice Lopez is never tired of telling Mr. Stead that he has nothing to do with intentions. Mr. Stead is very obstinate, and if Justice Lopez gives him three months he need not be surprised, even if the bellowing of evangelical ante-vivisectionists, ante-C.D'ists, Salvationists, and all that is good in motive, but unwholesome in law and fact, worry the Home Secretary to commute the sentence. To-day Mr. Stead had to give in. The Archbishop of Canterbury was called and "provided with a seat on the Bench," and so was Lord Dalhousie, but Justice Lopez would not hear them and walked them all off—they had no "evidence" to give. Some thirty other witnesses Mr. Stead had proposed to call to testify how good he was and well-intentioned, were passed over, he himself wisely abandoning the point. He scored one against Mr. Webster, the Attorney-General, who asked him if he supposed Eliza Armstrong, who "attended a Sunday School," could be immoral? Naturally, Mr. Stead replied that Sunday School people were just as immoral as others.

From what the Judge said to-day we know all about his summing up. He said the point was, did Mr. Stead take the girl without her father's consent? Mr. Stead has admitted that he did, and there is an end of it He has broken the law: he broke down in his cross-examination. He admitted that for him, a tea-totaller and non-smoker, it was very hard work to go night after night to brothels and smoke and drink champagne, to get information; and that he did write some things that were not accurate. He is disposed also to give up Mrs. Jarrett, whose memory he finds is not as good as it might be. He denies that Mr. Jacques first offered his information to Captain Hamber, editor of the Morning Advertiser. What was offered to him was a different proposal, and referred to the discovery of English girls in Continental houses of ill-fame. In short poor Mr. Stead is; with all his cleverness, a fool and a fanatic, putting his trust in bishops and religious and moral associations, and, like his friend and chief supporter, Mrs. Josephine Butler, wife of a Canon of Westminster, he seems to think, together with most British people, that there is only one immorality, or that several immoralities include all the rest.

Mrs. Butler is sending out circulars, marked "important," begging us to move heaven and earth to save Mr. Stead, who "has to meet the cunning of the craft, the opposition, the hatred, the vengeance of individuals, some of them influential, who provoked the Government to institute this prosecution.

No doubt, no one can view the behaviour of the Judge and Home Office in this Jeffries case, without suspecting that the Law in defending the Law, is in that case, as well as the Armstrong case, covering the vices and reputation of important personages, and whatever the result to Mr. Stead, the effect will be far worse to the credit, or at least old popularity, of the spotless ermine and unflinching justice of England. It does seem strange that these cases fell to men like Brett and Lopez, who, in certain respects, are Huddlestones.

Leaving foreign politics, and the questions in Burmah, Roumelia and the Soudan, which is looking up, let me quote this paragraph from the Eco :—

"It is stated that a Membership of the New York Stock-Exchange has been sold for £7,083. A year ago it would have been worth £4,792 at the outside. But the game of American speculation is being played more wildly every day, and according to a writer in this month's Harper's Magazine, the value of membership will soon exceed £20,000 !"

Turn over that paragraph in your mind. Think of it as typical of the essence of modern civilisation, and can you wonder that the world is seeking some newer combination.

PARIS LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Oct. 23rd

The first ballot of the 4th October last, inflicted a chastisement on—not the republic, but the republicans, for the manner in which they washed the family linen in public, and frittered away the resources, vitality, and time, of the country. Hence, why the united partisans of the four pretenders to the crown of France scored the discontented. The monarchists, astonished at their windfall, commenced to exult; to sell the bear's skin before having slain Bruin. During the interval between the first ballot and the second—which has just taken place, the republicans, with a discipline worthy of the days of the 363 led by Gambetta, closed their feuds, and, shoulder to shoulder, gave a solid vote for the republic.

The first verdict was, that France desired to remain conservative; the second, that she was equally resolved to cling to the republic. Universal suffrage has thus expressed what it wished and what it did not. At Paris, it elects the noisy Rochefort the last of its 38 deputies; in the department of the Eure, it rejects the Duc de Broglie, the chief of the reactionists, while it leaves out in the cold, Ranc, the evil genius of opportunism. In a word, both ballots have shown, that the best way to obtain the confidence of the nation is to avoid its reprobation, that is to pursue a policy which shall be neither revolutionary nor retrograde

The new Chamber of Deputies, including the members for all the colonies—less Tonkin, Tunisia, Madagascar and the Congo, will consist of 584 members. It will be radical, but not in the sense of being Red or Extreme. It will handle questions, or reforms that have been dodged aside till the usual that day six months. Many useful measures, that have always been lying on the table of the house will have their cobwebs dusted off, ventilated, threshed, and disposed of, one way or the other. The monarchists will muster 200, the radicals 115, and the remainder, advanced republicans, say 274. The aim will be to create a solid republican phalanx, by eliminating the radical extremists. If not, the radicals and the monarchists, by an ephemeral coalition, can upset every cabinet. Indiscipline is an innate drawback with French deputies, and the best means to prevent the crumbling away of a united party into sects or factions is to weld them together by useful work, that will enlist their sympathies. When the heart of a maiden is stolen, the maiden herself will steal after it soon. In this respect, politicians and maidens are alike.

Attention is still fixed on Servia, as the pivot of the Bulgarian Gordian knot, for she dances as Austria pulls the strings. Russia is in a brown study about pulling the wires in Bulgaria. Ordinarily, bears waddle along to their prey, sheer stupidity being for them the same as courage. Russia is clearly not prepared to face the crack o' doom of European Turkey. There are too many legatees demanding Constantinople.

M. Emile de Laveleye, to whom Mr Gladstone recently addressed a letter on the Bulgarias, is always an authority on matters connected with the Balkans. He is the advocate of the federation of the Balkan states, that "crystal in course of formation." Strangers, he asserts, cannot believe the extent the "ethnic sentiment," or question of nationalities, has assumed in Austro-Hungary, and in all the Balkan peninsula. It was by acting on these lines of national agglomerations, that such realists as Cavour and Bismarck, succeeded. The press and literature are the chief instruments for rekindling and keeping green language and race-vitality. In Finland, where Swedish once was spoken, after the official language—Russian, Finnish predominates. In Galicia, the Poles have now their natal tongue, and not German. In Bohemia the Tchéque triumphs over the German, and the same exists at Prague. Now in numbers the Croat-Slavs can alone keep Russia in check. either by federating, as in the United States and Switzerland, on taking in with Austria.

M. de Laveleye has just been through Servia. He is an old European traveller, and looks with the eyes of a De Tocgeville at States and their institutions. Servia, he affirms, is agricultural and democratic. The clergy or 'popes' must be married to be deacons; they depend on their flocks for support in kind, plus a pall-tax of 2 fr. yearly on every tax payer in their Commune. Some of the popes have large families, they are very popular, tilling their own holdings, mixing in all the joys and sorrows of their congregations, but above all people adore them because they are ignorant of theology, and abstain—unlike the clergy of many countries, from politics. The doors of the church are ever kept wide open, for fear worshippers might forget the road thereto.

King Milan I., who succeeded his father—assassinated in 1868, was educated in Paris. He is now as superb looking as a Life Guardsman. He is his own Chancellor of the Exchequer, and mercilessly cuts down all expenses. The taxes are not levied on the land but on the individual; the latter receives a list of all the expenses to be met, under respective heads; army education, poor rate, clergy, sick, railway loans etc. It is thus easy to know how the wind blows. About 60 fr. a year or one franc per week, is the average total impost per tax payer. The Queen Nathalie is the King's own cousin, and a celebrated beauty; daughter of a Russian Colonel and a Roumanian princess, she is tall, slender, looks a goddess and moves a Queen. They have only one child, a lad, seven years old, destined to wed the only daughter of the Prince de Montenegro; from this union it is hoped to revive the fame of Douchan.

The King and Queen assist at all the village fêtes they can, and enjoy the merry makings. A few arm chairs suffice for their majesties. On these occasions all the girls have the privilege of kissing the Queen twice on the cheek—"don't touch the Queen" is a Spanish prohibition. The officers of the royal escort who join in the dances, retake the kisses from the girls. Often the King on these occasions administers a little justice like Louis under an oak—not a "bed of justice." In every village there is a granary of abundance, where each farmer deposits 3½ cwts of wheat or maize annually, as preparation against famine or war. Each farmer is the absolute owner of his holding, and if distressed for debt, the creditor must leave him seven acres of his farm, his house, his live stock and implements. A Servian will never act in the capacity of a domestic or farm laborer; the Croats perform those duties. But farmers assist each other; service for service.

In his time Tacitus observed the German fed on meat, milk and its preparations; to-day the German's diet is chiefly potatoes and rye bread. The Servian has meat once a day at least, save on the 150 holidays, when he fasts on maize and beans. Nine-tenths of the total population of two millions are agriculturists; breeding and fattening live stock, grain and vine culture, being the end. If Holland has been built on herring bones, Servia may be said to be founded on pigs; she exports 350,000 annually; many of the hogs are fed on the glands in the forests. King Milan ambitious to repossess Old Servia, that Northern point of Macedonia, and South of Vrania, the theatre of the exploits of Servian glory, of Skopia, where Douchan placed on his head himself the imperial crown of all Roumania, and Kassova, the epic battlefield, where the Cross definitely triumphed.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The R.M.S. Tagus is expected at Montevideo to-night or to-morrow morning. She left Rio on the 30th ult.

There was horrid news from Martin Garcia yesterday: Two decent 'vecinos' brutally murdered by two escaped convicts, one of them undergoing sentence for four murders, committed since he was sent to jail. It is said that the guard kept on the convicts at Martin Garcia is a mere farce.

Three young National Bank clerks are in trouble, 4,000 nats short.

The great pianist Voyer gives a concert to-night in the Florida Gardens. He is really worth hearing.

There was some very good news from the candidateship of Dn Bernardo Irigoyen. We are not in a position to give the details, but we can advise our readers that the news is of such great importance that it was the talk of all the Irigoyen Clubs yesterday evening.

It was said yesterday that all the tramway owners have combined to fight the Lord Mayor's new tax of 5 per cent on them as unconstitutional.

Telegrams from La Plata, as we were going to press, reported Bargossi in his last agony, and his poor wife stricken down by the same fatal disease. This is a most pitiful case.

The new Minister of Government in Santiago del Estero is a successful Tucuman grocer. This shows how people can rise in a Republic.

The banquet given by Mr. H. G. Edwardes, British Minister, to Lord Dudley and his companions, was one of the grandest affairs of the season. The commanders of the Ruby and the Stork and about 30 invited guests formed the party. The dinner was served with all the famed eclat of the proprietor of the Confiteria del Gas. Lord Dudley, we are happy to say, has formed the most favorable opinion of the country, and we advised him to buy fifty leagues of land before he left the Plate. The banquet was all the more agreeable and enjoyable since there was no competitive examination in the shape of speeches, a new rule which we hope to see adhered to.

We have to thank our enterprising friends Messrs Dewey & Co. for Liverpool papers to 7th inst., brimful of news. See another column.

We are sorry to hear from San Luis that Mr Sinclair has a few of his ribs broken last week by a fall from a carriage.

Throwing stones is becoming quite a fashionable amusement now with the "canaille." Every day there is a case. The general paving and smashing-up of streets going on supplies ammunition.

The popular firm of Bagley & Co have just donated to the Boys' Asylum at Flores 223½ Nats, a 'sobrante' from a recent lawsuit they won. We believe this is the first instance on record in any part of the civilised globe in which either a plaintiff or defendant in a lawsuit has come out of it with a copper to to jingle on a tombstone, no matter what the amount of damages and costs awarded. We congratulate Messrs. Bagley both on their unusual luck and their generosity.

The American sailors who had a friendly bout with the 'vigilantes' the other night in Calle Buen Orden, were not men-of-war's men, but belonged to a merchant vessel now in the Riachuelo.

There was great anxiety yesterday in railway circles to know the judgment of the Supreme Federal Court in re Honoré and Bowen versus the Buenos Aires Government. The sentence of the Court may possibly affect the grand Heimendahl scheme now before the Chambers.

The Lord Mayor and the tramway managers have another interview to-day about the new tram tax, and the mode of its collection.

The religious services for the late Dr. Avellaneda will take place to-next week in the Cathedral.

A poor old buffer in the last stage of seediness suddenly tumbled on his head in Calle Parque yesterday. The "blue" at the corner thought it was a case of drunk, but it turned out that the man had not had a morsel of food for 24 hours.

The Pampa had a very pertinent leader yesterday on the growth of the Remington in this country. Its development, perhaps by a law of nature, has certainly kept pace with that of Rams and Railways, the two Rs. that have made this country what it is. The third R. in question could be dispensed with to a considerable extent, but not altogether, until the Millennium comes.

The Buenos Aires Chambers had a three hours debate on Wednesday about camp Municipalities. It was very dry.

EDITOR'S TABLE

Baron Alencar's dinner at the 'Aguila' on Thursday night, in honour of the Emperor Dom Pedro's birthday, was a superb affair. The President and Vice-President of the Republic, the Cabinet Ministers, the Diplomatic Corps, the Attorney General, the Lord Mayor and other personages were present. President Roca toasted the Emperor, and Baron Alencar drank to H. E. in return. We forgot to salute the popular sovereign of Brazil on the 2d, but do so now with all our heart, and wish him many happy returns of the day.

The Concejo D. held a sitting at last on Wednesday night. There were some 16 Aldermen and Councillors present, and they went at the question of "letrinas" at the Boca like men resolved to do or die. Alderman Cadret, before ten words had been uttered, knocked the whole question to smithereens by informing the House that digging 'letrinas' to the water was all nonsense, as even those of 3 metres depth were frequently flooded. In sheer disgust the House then let the 'letrinas' slide, and went into Committee of supply. In such bad humour with the Boca were the members that they knocked off the 300 nats. a month hitherto allowed for the Lord Mayor's lunch, and a sharp reduction in his Lordship's salary (800 nats) was only saved by the unpleasantly narrow squeeze of one vote. In this hot weather it is better to abstain from lunch; but having to abstain also from the money that paid for it is not agreeable.

The Prensa continues to disclose shameful frauds in the registration of tonnage.

The Pipe Water gets spasmodic fits of scarcity now all over town. The Lord Mayor should prohibit the waste that goes on by watering the streets from private houses with a hose. It is thought 'swell' to have a hose, and every dirty little bakery or restaurant that has one makes a point of deluging the street. At the corner of a central street the other day a bit of a boy kept a hose going for an hour and a half, to the apparent great delight of his extremely dirty 'patron,' who stood at the door.

No wonder flies are numerous, Monsieur Delaunay, the great French savant, tells us that a lady fly thinks nothing of having 745,496 children every year.

The papers say that the President of the City Improvement Works has politely asked the contractors to oblige the Lord Mayor by paying the 500 nats fine his Lordship imposed on them the other day. They received the request with a courteous don't-you-wish-you-may-get-it smile.

The Pampa had a sound and justly severe leader yesterday on the National Bank's doings in the Bolsa. Better that the State banks never entered either the exchange, or gold market; and things would soon right themselves.

The biggest ox in the world, or rather in this part of it, has turned up in the province of Salta. The animal is 2½ meters in length by 1-90 in height, and weighs 15 quintals. He is so fat that he can only walk 40 yards at a time, and requires three days rest before he can attempt another walk. Eight hundred Nationals have been offered for the monster.

Another ball match in Plaza Euskara is announced for Sunday next. Some British faces are now to be seen at Mr. Chiquito de Eibar's performances.

The La Plata Government wont hear of Messrs Abreu's proposal to buy 20 million metres of land on the banks of the Ensenada Port Canal. They offered six millions for it, in the firm conviction that it will be worth ten times that in ten years.

Ferrari is coaxing all he wants out of our easy-going Municipality. The other day he asked to be let off the rent, as he lost money last season; and now he wants a year's more law for replacing the wooden staircase by a marble one, according to contract.

It is rumoured that John W. Mackay is negotiating with James Gordon Bennett for the purchase of the New York Herald, and that John Russell Young, late U. S. Minister to China, will be its future editor-in-chief. It is said that 8,000,000 dols, have been sunk in the Mackay-Bennett cable, and that Mackay holds a mortgage on the Herald for Bennett's share in the enterprise. If Mackay becomes proprietor of the Herald, he will be able to back up his purchase with 30,000,000 dols.

A New York paper which reprinted certain notorious articles from a London evening journal found its circulation suddenly increase from an average of 40,000 to over 163,000 per day.

According to the "Annuaire de la Presse Française," there were published last year, in the Departments of France (exclusive of Paris), 2,506 newspapers and periodicals, as compared with 2,446 in the preceding year. As regards politics, 678 were Republican, and 482 Monarchical, the corresponding figures for the year 1883 having been 836 and 456 respectively. In Paris alone there were started during the past year 473 new journals, of which number, however, only a very small proportion survive.

Ye gods! The names of all the free and slightly enlightened that have been inscribed on the voting list during the past two months are to be published for the edification of the public. All right.

Important Notice.

I hereby advise the public that I have established a Gymnasium Institute at Calle Florida 406, where I also apply the MASSAGE SYSTEM as studied and practiced at Dr. KELLGREN'S well known institute in London.

This system has given the most surprising results in curing chest and lung complaints, and all maladies caused by the kidneys and joints, and in any way connected with the nervous system. Thus the celebrated SYSTEM of MASSAGE is recommended as a certain cure for rheumatism, asthma, undeveloped muscles, paralysis, disorders in the digestion and in the circulation of the blood, etc., etc.

I have also a special class for the development of the body and muscles.

The following is the time-table I have arranged for the application of the Massage System:

For Gentlemen 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.

For Ladies 12½ to 2 p.m.

Consultation hours—11.30 a.m. to 12.30.

Patients can also make arrangements for the application of the Massage System at their own residences.

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR'S CARDS.

L. Jacobsen & Co have received an immense assortment of the above, being the choicest products of the best makers.

The variety is wonderfully great, and surpasses all former years, not only in brilliancy of colour, but in elegance of design, combining all that is chaste and artistical.

Amongst these pleasing souvenirs of the season are to be found novelties of the most striking character and perfect gems of art, not only calculated to interest for the hour, but to elevate and improve the taste of old and young.

A special vast department, with an extra body of able assistants is exclusively devoted to this branch of the business where a permanent exhibition of these highly esteemed presents will be held till the termination of the season; the assortment, containing valuable artistic cards, small hand painted on satin, ivory, Bristol board etc etc, as well as less expensive ones, will be always at hand to choose from.

Parties desiring Christmas cards to be delivered to friends on Christmas Day or New Year's Cards on New Year's Day, can obtain this by giving their orders to us in time, when they will be posted by our London agents at proper period to be in hand on the desired day.

Dysentery, Cholera Fever, Ague Coughs, Colds, &c.

Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne

(Ex Army Medical Staff)

IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent hospital physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's—See Times, July 12th 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than

Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates health action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensive.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for coughs, consumption, bronchitis, asthma.

CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests too often fatal diseases Diphtheria Fever, Croup, Ague.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout Cancer Toothache, Meningites, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemist, Medical Hall, Simla, Jan-5th 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 22, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London—"Dear Sir, we embrace this opportunity of congralulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justly-esteemed medicine, DR COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of DR. COLLIS BROWNE S CHLORODYNE in Diarrhœa, and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a "deliberate breach of faith on the part of the chemist to prescriber and patient alike." We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists."

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera—"So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all classes."

CAUTION—None genuine without the words 'Dr J. Collis Browne' on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

ON 'CHANGE

November 19th, 1885

We have again to congratulate our friend Mr Lowe on the magnificent sale of his second lot of wool, 1240 @ at 110 m/c, being one dollar m/c in advance of the price paid for the first lot. Mr Lowe has proved that good wool and well cared sells well. Messrs Duggan brokers.—Standard,

ON 'CHANGE

December 3rd, 1885

Gold	42 o/o prem.
Cedulas A	98¾
Cedulas E	81
Cedulas F	79
Cedulas G	83¼
Scrip, 70 o/o paid up	95
Scrip, 80 o/o paid up	106

To-day's opening quotation shewed a still further decline in the gold market, and is exactly 2 o/o lower than yesterday's official price. The sales for cash amounted to 102,493, opening at 142, rising to 142.50, and closing at 142. Notwithstanding that both the telegrams regarding the £500,000 and the signing of the Loan Bond, received yesterday, were confirmed to-day, gold stood its ground well, and the fall that was expected did not take place. For Saturday 137,000 were passed at prices fluctuating between 142 and 142.50. 630,000 were sold for the end of the month, opening at 141.50, rising to 142 60, and closing at 142.20; and for January 31st 1o,ooo at 141. Total sold 901,493.

The Loan Bond was signed yesterday in Paris and will be signed to-day in London.

Cedulas were somewhat firmer to-day, Series F showing an improvement of ½ o/o on yesterday's price. 14,5oo were sold cash at 79. In Series G 99,8oo were sold for cash, opening at 83¾, rising to ⅞, and falling again to ¾, at which price they closed. For tomorrow 16,ooo of Series E were sold at 81, and 23,o5o Series A at 98⅜. The total sales were 153,35o.

A small sale of 50 Nat. Bank Certificates, 70 o/o paid up, was marked up to-day at the remarkably low price of 95, which shows how much this stock has fallen. Previous sales were made at 110, 70 o/o paid up; 2oo were sold for the end of the month at 106½, 80 o/o paid up. This is an extraordinary low price for this stock, paying such a good interest, and many brokers say that the stock cannot be purchased at above quotations.

Mr. Nicholas Lowe sold his third lot of this year's wool this morning at 110 ⅝, the same price as his last lot. We congratulate Don Nicolas on the high price, and there is no man in the R. Plate that better deserves it. Messrs Duggan Bros., brokers.

Advices from the Northern camp districts state that the lino crop this year is a complete failure, and that wheat and maize will barely pay expenses.

The R.M.S. Tagus should arrive in Montevideo this evening, as she left Rio on Monday evening.

Parties holding shares in the Eastern Tramway in Montevideo are requested to call at the Office, Calle Ituzaingó No 109, on the days 9th, 10th and 11th, to have them changed for the newly emitted hypothecated guarantee authorised by the general meeting held on the 30th October.

The Rio Negro, belonging to the Chargeurs Reunis Company, which arrived in Montevideo on Monday, made a remarkable run this time to the Plate. She left Havre on the 10th Nov., touching at Teneriffe on the 16th and arriving there on the 30th, thus making her trip from Havre in 20 days and from Teneriffe in 14½ days.

The hull of the Hermes, wrecked some time ago, was sold to-day at 160 dollars, as also the remainder of her cargo at same price. Buyer, Mr Jones. The Hull of the Gainsford was also sold for 165 dollars. Buyer, Mr. John Sloan.

Respecting the removal of 4 of the National Bank clerks, it appears that the cause is a deficit in the cash of 4,000 m/n and not 40,000. The affair is not very fresh having occurred a fortnight.

Mr Davidson, of the Rosario, leaves to-day for Tucuman in company with Mr Clarke, Manager of the Tucuman railway.

The little schooner Rio Negro, Captain Rasmussin, arrived up this morning from Patagones, with a cargo of Patagonian salt, 6oo fanegas, sold to-day at 2 nats per fanega. It is a good sign to see the Patagonian salt trade coming to the front.

The Minister of War's report, beautifully bound and got up, was given round to-day. It contains a full report of the Bay of San Blas with the new chart of the Bay.

Advices from the Rio Negro report the sales of several troops of novillos at 16 nats. Baron Pollnitz is in Patagones, he offered 15,000 m/n per league to Mr Kincaid for his estancia which was refused; land on the river is rising in value and there are many parties down there trying to buy some of the estancias in the valley.

Mr Pierce has arrived from San Luis. He bored 150 yards and found no water; but at the Station Jocoli, beyond Mendoza, he bored and found water.

The sale of the Casado Railway is spoken of. This will be a great thing for the people in Loreto and Venado Tuerto, as the extension will be carried through these lands to the Picasso Station.

Mr Bird, of Azul, has sold his wool down there at 90, and Mr Salaberry and others at 85 and 88½.

The captain of the schooner Rio Negro reports a German vessel almost lost off Punta Raza, in front of Mr Buckland's estancia, the captain having mistaken Mr Buckland's windmill for a lighthouse. Mr Buckland, seeing the barque making for the coast, set the mill going, but the mistake nearly cost the captain his vessel.

The long pending lawsuit between Marini and the Mercantile Bank has been at last finally decided and in favor of the Bank. This was the most celebrated suit in this country the Plaintiff demanded $500,000 pats damages, and the suit has held for over ten years.

Exchange in Montevideo is reported weak and Unifieds are down to 47, which is a great drop.

Telegrams were received by the Government to-day announcing that Messrs Baring Bros. of London have signed the loan papers, so that now all difficulty about this business is removed.

The following telegram has been received by Messrs M. Forrester and Co. of this city from Messrs R. Hornsby and Sons, Limited, of Grantham, announcing further successes of the Hornsby-Sheaf Binder in the Australian Colonies.

Some local committee is moving in the scheme of a railway from Giles. This new line, if carried out, will put new life into Giles which is about the slowest spot in the whole province of B. Ayres.

We received to-day an advertisement in Basque, which is indeed suggestive of the country we live in. The situation is about one of the best going, since it is the starting of a good estancia establishment, but only a Basque will be engaged, and a man of family. It speaks for the high credit of the Basques when we see such great property placed in their hands, and we must say, we think the Basques are worthy of the good name they enjoy, still we should have preferred to see y countryman get so magnificent a start.

Freights rule at the same rate, 25 francs for Antwerp and Havre, and 20 francs for Dunkirk, for regular liners. Outsiders are taking as low as 17½ for Dunkirk.

The market afterhours ruled much firmer than during the day, and a large amount was sold cash and for the end of the month at prices, first at 143 and than at 142.50-80

Exchange was passed to-day at 47⅞, not much done.

Captain Browne, of the Leibnitz, was welcomed on 'Change; although he does not sail until the 8th, he has already filled up with cargo and a very large passenger list. The Leibnitz is one of the finest of the Lamport & Holt Line. She takes the following cargo:—

The following letter will instruct our readers of the renewed efforts which are being made in London to get the coupons of the Hard Dollars paid in gold. As the attempt was made 4 years ago and failed, the Stock Exchange Committe having decided it was a Homg Loan, we cannot see that there is any probability of the move now resulting in anything:—

"To the Editor of The Daily Telegraph,

"Sir,

"The coming issue of a new Argentine loan is an opportune moment for holders of Argentine Hard Dollar stock to bring before the Argentine Government the hardship of their position and to claim their rights to payment in gold. These bonds were created a gold loan by the law of 1863, in which year forced currency existed in B. Ayres. The original bonds had printed on them that the coupons would be paid in gold at the rate of one ounce of standard gold to $17 of coupons, and it was this undertaking which made the issue of the bonds possible. When the old coupon sheets fell out in 1872 they were replaced by new bonds, in which standard gold was omitted, and only payment in hard dollars mentioned. When the attention of the Government was called to this the Finance Minister of the day stated that the omission was unintentional, and that payment in gold would always be made. Payment in gold always was made till 1877. In 1876 the Provincial Bank had stopped paying its notes in specie, and forced currency was decreed by the Government. Notwithstanding, for three quarterly periods after the issue of this decree the coupons on these bonds were paid in gold. When payments in paper begun in 1877 the Minister stated that it was a merely temporary measure due to the necessities of the Government, and there was no attempt to justify it as a right. Just previous to the issue of the loan of 1882 a memorial was presented to President Roca, on behalf of some large holders in London, calling his attention to the matter, through Mr. Forrester, a leading English merchant in Buenos Ayres. The President replied in a most friendly strain that, as the Bank was about returning to specie payments, gold payment of the coupons would come about naturally, and he assured Mr Forrester that they would never return to payment in depreciated currency again. Notwithstanding this, since the suspension of specie payments in January last the coupons have been paid in paper. I am perfectly certain that if the matter was again brought before the Government by any of the influential houses connected with Argentine finance, the Government would do justice to the bondholders, and I beg of your assistance in getting the bondholders to move in the matter.

"Your obedient servant,

"AN ARGENTINE.

"London, Oct. 24th."
